Soumen Sikder Shuvo will submit the first assignment. This role will be rotated.

5. Team Conflict.

As all of us has different other courses and academic responsibilities- it may arise an issue in future while working. We can prevent this by dividing roles and having proper communication between us time to time. Sometimes one person can be busy and unavailable. But he should inform of this issue to other members so others can back him up.

If all of us are unable to get to the solution for the project and if we are in need for any resources to work in the project- we will seek help from the instructor.

6. Other ideas.

If we can come up with some novel solutions to our problem statement, we may work on publishing that in a conference.
